

Information for Hotels, Accommodations and Campsites

Guests with Peritoneal Dialysis

Peritoneal dialysis can easily be combined with a stay at a hotel, holiday accommodation or campsite. It does not cause any inconvenience to other guests.

A guest undergoing peritoneal dialysis performs their dialysis treatment independently. It is a bloodless dialysis procedure in which sterile, glucose-containing dialysis solutions are used in a closed bag system.

Delivery and Storage of Materials

If required, the necessary dialysis solutions and materials are delivered directly to the accommodation or campsite by the supplier.

The boxes have maximum dimensions of 58 × 38 × 24 cm. Depending on the type of therapy, approximately 1 to 2 boxes are required per day.

The boxes just have to be stored in a clean, dry place, protected from sunlight and at room temperature. No special refrigeration or technical equipment is required.

Disposal

The waste generated during treatment can be disposed of with regular waste and in accordance with local waste separation regulations. The guest performs the treatment independently and is also responsible for the proper disposal of the consumables.
